

A SUMMARY case of a somewhat unusual nature came before Mr. A. J. Lynch, As-

A SUMMARY case of a somewhat unusual nature came before Mr A. J. Leach, Acting Puisne Judge, in the Supreme Court to-day. It arose out of a suit brought by a certain Chang Tsun last month against one Tsai Tai Kum for a little bill of a hundred dollars.

celebration of a marriage feast. The plaintiff obtained judgment against the defendant and got the services of a bailiff to remove the debtor to prison. To-day, however, the defendant, a middle-aged Chinaman, appeared before his Lordship been sent to prison instead of him, and that he was the man who should be durandee vile. The bailiff stated that he arrested the father, but the plaintiff, who was present at the time, said that was the wrong man, and pointed to the son as the

the assertion, was quietly walked off. The only explanation which the plaintiff could give of the matter was that he, though judgment ought to have been against the son, and that he was under the impression that the young man, not having time stand. He was not suing the father. Tsai Kum, the man against whom judgment had been obtained, stated in reply to the Lordship that it was he who owed the money sued for. Tsai Wa Kwong, the man who had been imprisoned, made a statement.

he did not acknowledge anything when was taken to prison, but simply went b cause he did not know what might happ to him. His Lordship, remarking that seemed to him the parties were playin with the Court in some way, ordered t

GENERAL Boulanger seems to have at last aroused the alarm of French Statesmen. Jules Ferry has been hurling abuse at him and has been 'called out,' while the Prime Minister, Mr Rouvier, as will be seen from the following American telegram, has accused

Paris, July 11th. In the Chamber Deputies to-day M. Revillon (Extreme reproached the Cabinet for remaining neutral over the proceedings of the party of t.
Right in connection with the recent mo-
of Comité de Paris.—

cepting office he appealed for support to the Republican majority. He met a refusal on the ground of the absence of one name from the Ministry. He (the Prime Minister) did not blame General Boulanger, but he must record the fact that the General was concerned in an illegal manifestation on the occasion of the recent election of a Deputy for the Department of the Seine. He said further that the President of the Senate, M. de Broglie, had been informed of the facts.

came necessary, therefore, to remove General Boulanger from his political surroundings and to return him to his proper position. If the civil power had hesitated, as did Premier Rouvier, it was all over with M. Fallieres, Minister of the Interior, implicated in the course of a short speech that the Marquis de la Roche-Guyon, Governor of Jersey during the recent visit there affirmed that the sentiments of the Cabinet were thoroughly Republican, and the Cabinet would glory to be able to assist in the triumph of Democratic reform.

THE O. & C. S. S. SAN PABLO
A TYPHOON.

The S. S. San Pablo arrived this morning

through a typhoon. The following is the report:—Left Yokohama July 29th 4 a.m., had a fair run down the Japan coast and through Van Diemen's Straits. July 31st, 60 miles S.W. Ingersoll Rocks, fell into the circle of a typhoon centre bearing

Eastward on account of the Lushan Islands and doubtful about clearing the Mesima Group to the N.E. held the ship the position then in and let the typhoon pass over her; found great difficulty in doing so on account of the strength of the Ku-siwo stream but succeeded in getting out the circle safely at 8 p.m. August 2
Baromet. 30.25, temp. 80.0, wind N.E. 10.
Range of barometer July 31st—August 2

29.00 to 29.30, from noon Aug. 2nd midnight 29.30 to 29.00, midnight to noon
Aug. 2nd 29.02 to 29.14, noon Aug. 2nd
8 p.m. 29.14 to 29.40. The Typhoon transferred very slow, but the gales blowing within the circle were very severe and the enormous on account of the current.
An observation obtained later got out of circle at a place Takara Island bearing N

winds with heavy rain squalls, brisk lightning and thunder. Barometer 29.60. Aug. 4th monsoon from S.S.W. blowing a gale until S.W. of Turnabout; Barometer 29.60. Aug. 5th light airs from Southward, and pleasant weather, Barometer 29.80 and so on. The San Pablo made the run from San Francisco to Yokohama in 14 days, beating the record of the best time.

DEATH OF THE PREMIER OF ITALY.
Signor Depretis, whose death is announced, has been the first statesman in Italy during the last decade, during the greater part of which he was at the head of affairs. Some months ago, on account of the Abyssinian disaster, he resigned his position in the Italian Cabinet, over which he presided, and subsequently took up his abode in the Italian Parliament, in consequence of which Signor Depretis and other exponents emerged. The King ever, was unwilling to accept the resignation of the Premier, and after a few unsuccessful attempts to form a Cabinet the Opposition Signor Depretis returned to power, associating with himself, however, Signor Crispi and one or two other members of the Opposition and leaving out of his cabinet Count di Robilant, who has been Minister for Foreign Affairs.

particularly directed. Signor Depretis over the Ministry for Foreign Affairs self although he was then in a delicate of health and was unable to appear in Chamber when the proceedings were op-re by the King. It would appear that burden of state affairs had proved too ug for his feeble health and advanced y

Contemporains:—
Depratis (Augustin), Italian

man, was born at Stradella (Piedmont) in 1817, studied law at the University of Turin, and practiced as an advocate in his native town. He engaged actively in all the efforts made by the Italian patriots to bring about the unity of their country, and was appointed in 1845 Civil Governor of Brescia. In 1848 he was elected a member of the Chamber of Deputies, and took his place on the Opposition benches. In 1851 he was appointed by Cavour, pro-secutor of Sicily, and in August of that year while acting in this capacity he proclaimed the Italian Constitution in Sicily. From March 1861 to 1863 he was minister for public works in the Rattazzi cabinet, and in June 1860 he became a member of Signor Ricciotti's cabinet, first as minister of Marine and then as minister of Finance. On the fall of that ministry he devoted himself to local affairs, and on the death of Rattazzi he became leader of the Opposition. On the fall of Minghetti's cabinet in 1876, he was entrusted with the formation of a ministry and took himself the portfolio of Finance with the Premier's ship. He continued to carry out his reforms in the law with regard to the grant tax, and it was during his ministry that free ports were created, and concessions and other public religious manifestations were forbidden outside the churches. At the dissolution in 1876 his party secured a great majority, and his cabinet carried various measures including the law abolishing arrest for debt, the law with reference to the Sugar tax, the reorganization of higher education, &c. On the other hand the Bill on the abuses of the Ministry of Public Works was rejected, and in 1877 Signor Depretis twice experienced, and in opposite directions, the effect of the instability of Italian parliamentary majorities. He resigned and Signor Orsini formed a ministry, which, however, only lasted a few months. Signor Depretis in December 1878 was again called to power, and formed a coalition cabinet including in certain proportions the chiefs of the various groups of the Chamber of Deputies. On the rejection of his Bill for the abolition of the Grant tax in 1879 he again resigned, and was again succeeded by Signor Depretis as leader of a new coalition of the Left. This combination, however, did not last long, and Signor Carot was obliged to reconstruct his cabinet so as to include Signor Depretis as Minister of the Interior. At the time of the French expedition to Tunis Carot's ministry was again called to power, and he resigned. After an unsuccessful attempt by Signor Stelma to form a ministry, Signor Depretis again took the helm of affairs and has been President of the Council of Ministers ever since.

FRAGRANT WATERS' MURMUR.

That the "thrashing out" of the various clauses of the Public Health Bill in Committee is likely to be a more lengthy business than it was generally expected to be.

That the unofficial members of Council appear to have set to work very intelligently, and have made up their minds to fight together all along the line.

That the Council will doubtless, in time, succeed in kicking this Bill into some sort of shape, if they do not give up the attempt in obedience to orders from Home.

That the absent Chief Justice is known to be opposed to the new Public Health Bill being forced through Council before the Land Commission Report is duly considered, and that other officials here were in any way to dovetail into a prolongation of the discussion on the Bill, and finally lead to the abandonment of the measure for a season.

That the few members who are to the spending power of the Sanitary Board did not seem to remind members of the serious expenditure which must be entailed by a conscientious and efficient observance of this new law.

That a very large vote of money will have to be made by the Sanitary Board, and that a revolution such as that set on foot by the Public Health Bill cannot be effected without a big outlay of money in salaries and other items.

That the unofficial members would be most unwise to succumb to the free use of money without proper checks.

That Mr. Bell Irving did good service in checking the tax-imposing proclivities of some of our legislators.

That I heard the other day of a house being taxed before the foundations were laid.

That it may be a question whether a few outlying Colonies have for from the Imperial Government if such a document as a telegram emanating from the Chairman of the Hongkong Chamber of Commerce, even if it were Scotchly presidential in its wording, provokes the members of St. Stephen's to laughter.

That such treatment, demands immediate and energetic action, which, however, probably won't be taken.

That it is intolerable that the Gibraltar, Malta, Liverpool, and Modern Sanitary Board should be held up to ridicule merely because it was once the "best Club in London" should have degenerated into a Bear-garden.

That publicity is calculated to throw needed light upon the grand reclamation scheme, which opens up so many questions that cannot be settled in a day.

That the Government might borrow the money to carry out the scheme in the interests of all, and thus make future residents pay for a portion of the cost.

That the extension from Murray Pier to Bowington ought to come first, and then the Low-Level Tramway.

That if the Marine Lot-holders scheme for extension is carried out, it should include at least one Harbour of Refuge for sampans and other small craft.

That the Postal Department requires around, or an inquiry, to discover where the shoe pinches.

That those Postal Notices which are issued with an "it" introduce much doubt and uncertainty into mercantile life.

That if, under any pressure of work, the inward mails are not delivered before the departure of the outgoing mails, somebody must be to blame.

That this somebody, or the system under which he exists, should be spotted, and a remedy applied.

That I am glad to hear that the over-worked Postmaster General is going home soon on a well-earned holiday.

That Sir Robert Hart's men are, so far, little more than "stock figures" at the Customs Station.

That the steam launches continue to seize junks outside the three-mile limit as of old.

That the Kwangtung mandarins will never understand anything but the most determined firmness, and, unless Peking interferes, a little more of that should be shown by the authorities of Hongkong.

That I hear that the steam launch "Tien-tai" above Canton has been promptly stopped by the Customs Victoria, Chang Chi Tung.

NEWS BY THE AMERICAN MAIL.

We take the following telegrams from our American exchange brought on by the steamer San Pablo which arrived this morning.

ENGLISH NEWS.

THE BRITISH MINISTRY.

July 5.—Nothing illustrated better the power of public opinion in England than the case of Miss Cass, which has kept the attention of Parliament under two separate occasions this week. A brief history of this case has already been given.

Miss Cass, a country girl, had been in London but three weeks, was employed in a milliner's shop in the northwest part of the city. While walking out one evening in Regent street she was arrested upon a charge of soliciting. She was locked up all night in the station-house, and was released on a promise to appear.

The next day, a respectable woman, who attempted to get her out of the station and treated with great rudeness. When the case came up in court the next day there was a scene of great excitement.

The case of a policeman. He swore that he had seen her upon several occasions sitting on the bench of the station-house.

Magistrate Newman would not listen to her employer, who was ready to give evidence that the girl had only been out once, as a stranger in London, and of irreproachable character.

The magistrate discharged Miss Cass with the understanding that she should not appear on Regent street, where she was arrested, after 9 o'clock at night unless she wished to be arrested as a street-walker.

The case has stirred up London more than anything which has happened for a long time, and has led to a great deal of investigation.

Miss Cass had been entered in the books at the police station as a common prostitute, while there was no evidence enough to warrant her being held upon examination.

The Home Secretary refused to investigate the case. Every newspaper in London, without regard to party, denounced the Home Secretary. The House next day passed a vote of censure, and for a time it looked as if the Cabinet would be broken up on account of the injustice perpetrated upon this poor working-girl.

The Home Secretary yielded at once to the storm and has abjectly promised to investigate the case. The policeman has been suspended and the offending magistrate has been called upon by the Lord Chancellor to explain his conduct.

It will probably lead to the arrest of the policeman, and the dismissal of the police officer.

A number of meetings have been held in London, and at these meetings some very curious facts have been developed. It appears that the policeman who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

The police officer who had arrested Miss Cass was a very bad character, and that he had been in the habit of receiving money from women for immunity, and that decent women are very often made subject to arrest by the police, and confined to the police station for a few hours.

program was to occupy at this point and wait the arrival of Lippo Tip, approaching from Stanley with provisions and several hundred more men.

A CANOE ON FIRE.

London, July 5.—A fine weather overtook the 26th in the early of the North German Lloyd steamer "Palla," at Bremen, from New York.

The discovery was made after the vessel left Southampton, and required twelve hours of hard work to quench the flames. It was necessary to jettison twenty tons of cargo, and forty bales of cotton from between decks. Other cargo in the compartments was damaged by fire.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC FOR THE PACIFIC SERVICE.

Chicago, July 5.—A special from Montreal says: The tender of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the English Mail Service on the Pacific is as follows:

It has offered to contract for the ocean service at a speed of fifteen knots under the Adipul supervision, and that they may be readily converted into armed cruisers for a subsidy of $10,000 per annum. In addition to this it also offers to carry China and Japan mails for 3500 miles across the Continent of America free of charge, also to carry troops and Government stores over the same distance of land and the ocean at cost price, thus making the route an Imperial highway.

The subsidy is calculated on the price per mile which the British Government pays the Peninsula and Oriental Company for the carrying of India and China mails, and by this estimate the amount in the subsidy for the fortnightly mail service each way between Vancouver and Hongkong would be $105,000 per annum.

Another tender, that of the Morgan Company, asks for the Pacific service alone, a long-term contract, and a very light northwest wind prevailed throughout. The train retired after going over a part of the course. She was in an hour behind the Thistle.

London, July 4.—The Thistle and Ilex had been on the Clyde for days, going over the same course as on Saturday. There was more wind to-day. The Thistle again got away ahead, and at the first round led by 5 minutes and 10 seconds. The Thistle won easily, although the wind did not favour her.

London, July 4.—The Thistle and Ilex again competed to-day in the regatta at Largs, Scotland, and the superior qualities of the Thistle were once more demonstrated. Light southerly winds prevailed at the start. The Ilex got the better of the Thistle in the first round, but the Thistle was in a long time to get her head and stern in the wind.

London, July 4.—The Thistle and Ilex again competed to-day in the regatta at Largs, Scotland, and the superior qualities of the Thistle were once more demonstrated. Light southerly winds prevailed at the start. The Ilex got the better of the Thistle in the first round, but the Thistle was in a long time to get her head and stern in the wind.

London, July 4.—The Thistle and Ilex again competed to-day in the regatta at Largs, Scotland, and the superior qualities of the Thistle were once more demonstrated. Light southerly winds prevailed at the start. The Ilex got the better of the Thistle in the first round, but the Thistle was in a long time to get her head and stern in the wind.

London, July 4.—The Thistle and Ilex again competed to-day in the regatta at Largs, Scotland, and the superior qualities of the Thistle were once more demonstrated. Light southerly winds prevailed at the start. The Ilex got the better of the Thistle in the first round, but the Thistle was in a long time to get her head and stern in the wind.

London, July 4.—The Thistle and Ilex again competed to-day in the regatta at Largs, Scotland, and the superior qualities of the Thistle were once more demonstrated. Light southerly winds prevailed at the start. The Ilex got the better of the Thistle in the first round, but the Thistle was in a long time to get her head and stern in the wind.

London, July 4.—The Thistle and Ilex again competed to-day in the regatta at Largs, Scotland, and the superior qualities of the Thistle were once more demonstrated. Light southerly winds prevailed at the start. The Ilex got the better of the Thistle in the first round, but the Thistle was in a long time to get her head and stern in the wind.

London, July 4.—The Thistle and Ilex again competed to-day in the regatta at Largs, Scotland, and the superior qualities of the Thistle were once more demonstrated. Light southerly winds prevailed at the start. The Ilex got the better of the Thistle in the first round, but the Thistle was in a long time to get her head and stern in the wind.

London, July 4.—The Thistle and Ilex again competed to-day in the regatta at Largs, Scotland, and the superior qualities of the Thistle were once more demonstrated. Light southerly winds prevailed at the start. The Ilex got the better of the Thistle in the first round, but the Thistle was in a long time to get her head and stern in the wind.

London, July

